Ermita: 'Tacurong blast BSA test; PNP: No, it's extortion'

By Richard J. Garcia and John D. Hume

THE 100TH BIRTHDAY OF President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo was celebrated in a series of events across the country. In Tacurong, Ilocos Sur, a blast occurred on the 100th birthday of the president. The Philippine National Police (PNP) and the Bureau of Security Assistance (BSA) are investigating the incident. The PNP is saying it's an extortion attempt, while the BSA is saying it's a test for the Tacurong blast.

URGENT APPEAL TO THE PRESIDENT

Save the horseracing industry

For the sake of horseracing and the various segments who have painstakingly nurtured its growth through years of hard work and substantial investments in financial resources aggregating P12 Billion pesos, employ thousands of workers and generate P1.2 Billion pesos in annual government revenues, we respectfully request for a complete change of leadership and revamp of the Board of Commissioners of Philracom.

HER EXCELLENCY

GLORIA MACAPAGAL ARROYO

President
Republic of the Philippines
Malakanyang Palace
Manila, Philippines

HER EXCELLENCY

It is with the deepest respect that we, members of the local horseracing industry, reiterate our urgent appeal to you for a complete revamp of the Philippine Racing Commission (Philracom) in view of the deplorable state of affairs since the appointment of retired Gen. Florencio Fianza as Chairman of said government agency.

In our original letter to Her Excellency dated March 5, 2007, we brought to your attention Gen. Fianza's belligerent attitude against the horse owners. His lack of knowledge on the rudiments and intricacies of racing which has led to the issuance of controversial resolutions and his total failure to muster the support of the various segments of the industry, thereby causing confusion on the direction and growth of local horseracing. In addition, Gen. Fianza used "vulgar" language in addressing an industry forum; a misconduct not befitting a gentleman and public servant. That meeting ended with a very deep animosity and a continuing distrust of the horse owners on the incumbent Chairman.

Since then, local horseracing has been in the doldrums and continues to operate in a vacuum. His clear course of action has been charged us to the overall direction of the sport, to the chaos and absolute dismay of all concerned. Added to these were one a clear set of erroneous policy directions which, at best, only damage rather than uplift the sport, to wit:

1. A Philracom "interim" resolution issued June 14, 2007 on imposition of speedometers was passed which seeks to reinstate antiquated policies which have been negated by previous commissions and updated by the same to conform to prevailing international standards of horseracing. The resolution on age qualification, purse earnings, closed are likewise passed. The restriction on ownership status compromises our nation's free trade policy and of doubtful constitutionality. Unfortunately, Gen. Fianza knows no better on these intricate rulings and simply heads the prodding of "myopic thinkers" in the commission to issue counter-productive resolutions. All horse owners' associations are kindly against these retrogressive pronouncements.
2. The decision of the two-year old stakes race schedule from the traditional schedule of July 2007 back to March 2007 threw all horse owners and trainers into a state of confusion because the majority population of two-year olds were still very new and young and were not yet ready for competitive racing. Why this resolution was passed puzzled many and horse owners voiced out in concern that indeed, this is another clear indication that Gen. Fianza knows nothing about the basic anatomy of a horse much less the sport of horseracing.

Unfortunately, the prime movers against all these nuisance impositions received summons from Gen. Fianza to air their side of an alleged collusion to boycott the races, which he considered to be an act of economic sabotage. Simultaneously, verbal threats in the form of cardboard signs were received by these critics in their offices and residences, obviously to intimidate and sow fear in them. This narcissistic police mentality has no place in this "Sport of Kings."

When Gen. Fianza assumed the position of Chairman, the betting public thought that he is the "white knight" who can swoosh in the potential problems of illegal bookie operations, the use of banned drugs on horses, the much-to-be feared officiating of our race stewards and dishonest jockeys – they too were disappointed as their new chairman and his colleagues in the commission did nothing substantial to solve these problems. At best, the litany of problems including previous preposterous rulings on handicapping and allocation of prize money contained in our original letter will continue to persist for as long as we have an inefficient commission under the current leadership. This is truly a classic case of pure managerial incompetence in running the commission.

Sad to say, Gen. Fianza is simply not the right man for the job.

Madame President, in line with your planned re-organization of the bureaucracy and your earnest desire to recruit the best and brightest to run industries such as horseracing, we urgently reiterate our request for a complete revamp of the Philracom to pave the way for a new commission composed of people who possess competence, integrity and dedication to the job at hand. We need people who truly understand the rudiments of the game and are well-equipped with the mental caliber to untangle the mess created by the Fianza commission and adeptly craft the correct regulatory policies.

Hopfully, this urgent appeal would be given due consideration by Her Excellency.

Lawyers going bananas over 'apples and potatoes'

By Jina

MANILA (The Philippine Daily Inquirer) — Lawyers are going bananas over the "apples and potatoes" of the Philippine judicial system, with some arguing that the system is broken and needs to be reformed, while others argue that the system is working and should be maintained.

The controversy is over the proposed judicial reform, which would create a new judicial branch, the Office of the President of the Supreme Court, to oversee the lower courts. Some argue that this is a necessary step to improve the efficiency of the judiciary, while others argue that it is a waste of money and will only create more problems.

The proposed reform has been a topic of debate for years, with some arguing that the current system is too slow and inefficient, and that a new system is needed to handle the growing number of cases. Others argue that the current system is working well and that any changes would be unnecessary.

Born braver

MANILA (The Philippine Daily Inquirer) — A group of young people, known as the "Born Braver" group, have been making headlines for their bold and daring actions. The group, which is made up of young people from various backgrounds, has been known for its daring stunts and pranks, and has gained a large following on social media.

The group's actions have been both praised and criticized, with some arguing that they are brave and daring, while others argue that they are reckless and dangerous. The group has also been accused of causing property damage and disrupting public order.

Despite the controversy, the group continues to be active, and its members are known for their sense of humor and their willingness to take risks. The group's actions have also inspired other young people to follow in their footsteps, and the group has become a phenomenon in the Philippines.

The group's actions have also led to a debate about the role of the media in reporting on such events, and whether or not the media should be more responsible in its reporting.

Abstract

There is a lot of talk about the importance of the Internet in the future of the company. But what is the reality? The Internet is a powerful tool, but it is not a magic wand. It can be used to create a competitive advantage, but it can also be used to destroy one. The key is to use it wisely and to understand the needs of your customers. The Internet is a double-edged sword, and it is up to you to decide how to use it.

Finally, the authors note that the authors' definition of "discovery" is somewhat subjective. It is possible that some of the "discoveries" identified by the authors are actually "re-discoveries" of previously known results. This is particularly true for the results on the existence of a unique solution to the system of equations.

Cold, coughs in one month.
According to the CDC, common colds are the leading cause of illness in children. The CDC estimates that children have an average of 10 colds a year. The CDC also estimates that children have an average of 10 colds a year. The CDC also estimates that children have an average of 10 colds a year.

the decision to accept the offer of a new contract is a complex one. It involves a number of factors, including the company's financial position, the state of the economy, and the company's long-term strategy. The company must also consider the impact of the contract on its employees and the community. The decision is ultimately up to the company's management, but they should take the time to carefully evaluate all the options before making a final decision.

Popcorn and Insects

Popcorn is the only snack food that is not made from refined grains. It is made from whole grain corn, which is a whole grain. However, it is often cooked with a lot of oil and salt, which can make it a less healthy choice. If you are looking for a healthy snack, popcorn is a good choice, but it should be eaten in moderation.

It's a dark, rainy night. The streets are empty. A lone figure is walking down a dark street. The figure is a woman, and she is looking back over her shoulder. She is looking at a man who is following her. The man is a stranger, and she doesn't know who he is. She is scared, and she is running. She is running as fast as she can. She is running towards a bright light. The light is at the end of the street. She is running towards the light. She is running towards freedom.

With proper planning, it can be profitable. "I plan to take on about 5,000 sq. ft. of space," says Jeffery, "and I'll be able to handle about 1000."

The company's primary customers are U.S. Navy and military hospitals. It is a government- and hospital-owned service.

As such, Jeffery's business and his business's future are secure. The government has had to increase the number of the hospitals and, consequently, demand for the service.

"I don't see any changes in the future," says Jeffery. "I don't see the need to increase the number of hospitals or the number of services."

Unilateral (expropriation)
 In Brazil, under Article 171 of the Constitution, 50% of the economic surplus within the oil sector must be paid to the state. The article states that "the Government shall have the right to expropriate the surplus of the production of petroleum and its derivatives" (1988, Article 171, § 1).

the authors, however, do not discuss the role of the international community in the current crisis.

Using a case study of a changing state and regional community, the authors provide an analysis of the role of the international community in the current crisis. The authors argue that the international community has a role to play in the current crisis, and that it should be involved in the current crisis.

The book is a must-read for anyone who loves to travel and who wants to know more about the world's most beautiful and most interesting places.

When the Journal of the American Medical Association published its editorial on the "New Wave" in the late 1990s, the text began with the sentence, "Let's be honest: In the United States, the word 'epidemic' has become a cliché." Since then, the word has been used to describe everything from the increase in obesity to the rise in HIV/AIDS to the increase in gun violence. The word has become a shorthand for a problem that is widespread and serious.

There is one group that often do not contribute to the success of the intervention: those who do not want to be helped. In these cases, the therapist must be able to recognize the signs of resistance and to deal with them in a constructive way. This is often a challenge, as the therapist must be able to understand the reasons for the resistance and to help the client to overcome them.

Keeping a balanced mind on TSA

POLITICAL TODAY

THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION (DOT) has announced that it will be implementing a new security screening process for passengers traveling on domestic flights. The new process will require passengers to remove their shoes, belts, and light jackets before going through the security checkpoint. This new measure is part of a series of steps that DOT is taking to enhance the security of the nation's airports and ensure the safety of its passengers.

While the new screening process may seem like a hassle, it is a necessary step to ensure the safety of our nation's airports. The Transportation Security Administration (TSA) has been working hard to improve the security of our airports, and this new measure is just one of the many steps they are taking to do so. It is important that we all do our part to keep our airports safe and secure.
